

Martinez Regional Shoreline

Fishing boats at Grangers' Wharf.

This photo was probably taken in the late 1800s.

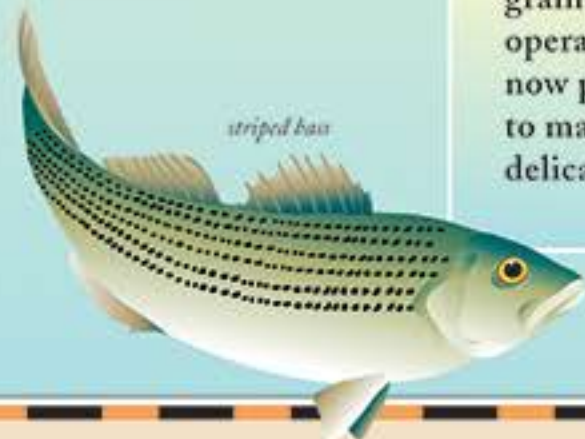

A felucca fishing boat used by Italian fishermen.

Martinez Regional Shoreline was once the site of a wharf, grain warehouses, a fishing village, and the oldest and longest operating ferry in the San Francisco Bay area. This area is now part of the East Bay Regional Park District and is home to many species of plants and animals that thrive in the delicate marshland.

snowy egret

striped bass

western fence lizard

great blue heron