the concepts of children by ensuring they align with community standards.

The GOI Network has several key components. It strengthens the full-service community school and community needs. This component will implement Parks Pression — a model within public schools in areas to prioritize health, family, and curriculum.

Richmond, California — Directing Healthy and Active Living and Healthy Eating — in the prekindergarten settings of Oakland and Berkeley. The Berkeley Center for Health and Wellness has developed a program focusing on sustainability. Berkeley School District, Richmond, and Oakland are committed to health and wellness.

Risks to children, including violence, obesity, and environmental hazards, are inextricably linked. The District programs lead a multi-sector collaboration — the GOI Network for Healthy Districts. This partnership is supported by the Richmond Health People (HHP).

Over the years, the District has supported the International Health People (HHP) provider in the East Bay for 7 years. These partnerships have been a catalyst for the benefit of the entire community. The District has been able to provide leadership, funding, and resources to address health disparities.

District programs play a vital role in both the physical and mental health of children and incorporate programs that address the nutritional needs of children.

One of the key elements which make the East Bay Regional Park District unique is its emphasis on health and outdoor activities. What can be the importance of the District in promoting healthy living?

Dear Mr. Doyle:

Subject: Support for East Bay Regional Park District's Application for CTE Grant

I applaud the East Bay Regional Park District's emphasis on health and outdoor activities. What can be the importance of the District in promoting healthy living?

I wholeheartedly support this proposal and urge your favorable consideration.

Supporting the GO Network for Healthy Kids will serve as a model and catalyst for regional wellness and livability.

Agencies to ensure stakeholders are involved in their success.

All 33 cities and towns in the region as well as business, non-profits and other government providers in their areas as independent special Districts with an elected board, the District works with significant local matching funds of its own as well as establish partnerships with schools and health care providers in a manner that puts the regional interests at the core. The District is financially sound and has the capability to succeed.

Finally, the District is a model public agency in the East Bay where successful links communities.
