Volcanos, Labyrinths, Quarries and Newts

Join us for a 2.5-mile moderate ramble exploring hidden labyrinths in historic quarries that have reshaped this beautiful volcanic landscape. Search skyward for eagles and below the surface of a vernal pond for newts.

Where: Sibley Volcanic Regional Preserve (Sibley Staging Area)

Spring Departure: Birds of Beach and March

Let’s say goodbye before it’s too late. Some of our winter visitors are still fueling up here and readying themselves for the next stage in their lives’ journeys. It will be fun to look for birds who have begun to molt into their fancy breeding plumage.

Hikes for Tykes

March 5: Temescal Regional Recreation Area

Has spring sprung around the lake? We’ll stroll around the short lake loop looking for signs of spring!

March 19: Oyster Bay Regional Shoreline

A pollinator garden, buckeye trees and pine trees— all growing on top of an old dump! Come explore!
